Life and Books and Everything - Clearly Reformed

A short piece about what to expect when you listen to Life and Books and Everything.

Transcript

[Music] I'm Kevin DeYoung. Welcome to Life and Books and Everything where I get together with my good friends Justin, Taylor, and Collin Hansen to talk about, well, Life and Books and a little bit of everything. On any given episode we may end up discussing sports, movies, politics, history, ministry, or current events.

You'll get some serious stuff, some humor. At least funny to us, and some wonderful recommendations on outstanding Midwestern cuisine. Mostly, you'll hear about books, books we like, books we don't like, books we want to read, books we want to write, books we want on a desert island, books for pastors and leaders, books for moms and dads, fiction books, theology books, history books, philosophy books, new books, old books, you get the idea.

And from time to time we interview leaders to talk about the books they've written. And the books they're reading. Justin and Collin and I are having fun hanging out together each week.

We hope you'll stop by and spend some time with us as well. On Life and Books and Everything.
